Current Fall 2021-22 Revenue as Compared to Proposed: Dr. Stinson advised there was an enrollment decline and projecting Spring semester equates to $2,612,304 million decline in revenues. The two percent tuition increase resulted about $1,578,659. The SACF collapse resulted in $(1,413,490). All these combined made a net revenue of $(2,447,135). (Handout B) Terri McWilliams went over the calculations on Handout C.

New Budget Requests: Dr. Stinson advised some non-instructional requests were for recurring funds, funding has not been identified but department reallocation suggestions have been made. The academic requests were mostly one-time requests. The total new budget requests were $1,874,283. (Handout F)
