

College of Education

TENNESSEE TECH

Dean's Quarterly Update | June 2022

Elinor Ross CDF Freedom School

The Elinor Ross CDF Freedom School is in its third year at Tennessee Tech. Hosted by the College of Education, the FREE six-week summer literacy and cultural enrichment program provides local children (grades K-4*) exceptional, interactive, and empowering learning experiences.

*Children in grades K-4 qualifying, by household income, for free/reduced lunch programs.

The Elinor Ross CDF Freedom School is funded entirely by private donations and grants. Our community-based program provides children with healthy meals and snacks daily; special events are also planned for the kids and their families.

We hope you will choose to contribute to this unique and valuable resource for local children. With your help, we will be able to develop and expand these young learners' interests, access, and outlook.

A CDF Freedom Schools® Partner

EACH CHILD RECEIVES...

Hours of high-quality literacy and enrichment activities.

Dozens of motivating, age-appropriate books for the young scholars to take home.

A new bike, helmet, lock, and bicycle safety training.

Excursion field trips to the Tennessee Aquarium in Chattanooga, the Dale Hollow Fish Hatchery, Amazin' Acres farms, an awesome new nature exploration project, and more!

For more information and/or to support the Elinor Ross CDF Freedom School, please visit: tntech.edu/freedomschool or scan the code.

Contributions, regardless of amount, directly benefit the children.

Office of the Dean

931-372-3124 | education@tntech.edu | www.tntech.edu/education