Biographical / Historical

Joe L. Evins served 30 years as a Member of Congress, representing the 4th District of Tennessee from 1946 to 1976. Serving under six different presidents, he chaired and served on the House Select Committee on Small Business, House Appropriations Committee, and the Subcommittee on Public Works and Atomic Energy Appropriations and he served on the House Committee on Small Business. These committees included working on programs such as the Veterans Affairs, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and the Tennessee Valley Authority (TEVA). Evins' contributions in Congress helped rural middle Tennessee through the creation post offices and other federal buildings, and construction of both Interstate 40 and Highway 111. He brought Lyndon B. Johnson's Model Cities Program to Smithville, TN, the smallest city to receive funding in the program. Evins was also responsible for acquiring funding for the Appalachian Center for Craft. Tennessee Tech named November 20, 1976 as Joe L. Evins Day in honor of his service and dedication to the University and region. Evins supported NASA and had a great interest in space, finding ways to incorporate Tennessee into the program by using resources such as Douglas Aircraft, Tennessee Technological University, and Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Evins believed that "local leadership and local initiative...can and should provide the keys to progress for our people." He wanted a Congress that was more beneficial to the people than the officials. He answered his constituents' mail and listened to their problems, trying to resolve issues raised. Evins was born in Blend, DeKalb County, Tennessee on October 24, 1910. He graduated from Vanderbilt University and Cumberland University School of Law and too his Post Graduate of Law at George Washington University. He served in the United States Army during World War II. He practiced law in Smithville before working as an attorney for the Federal Trade Commission and later the assistant secretary. Joe L. Evin's wife was Ann Smart, daughter of a McMinnville judge, and they had three daughters, Mary Evins Overton, Joanna Evins Carnahan, and Jane Evins Leonard. His father J. Edgar Evins was state senator. Joe L. Evins passed away in 1984. Timeline: 1910 October
