1: I once translated all of Beowulf from Old English into modern English for a class.

2: My favorite play is Ben Jonson's The Alchemist. Three tricksters make use of a man's house while he is away, running multiple different scams which inevitably collide--and then the man who owns the house comes home. It's hilarious!

3: I am an avid player of Dungeons and Dragons, and have been running campaigns for my friends for about 5 years now. The campaign I'm currently running has been going for two years now!
